

idea grid\

It's yr secondcup of coffee

You usually put a square of dark chcolate in the cup in a littlewater and microwarve,
then add the coffe in the decanter.

So?

Well th problem is your thinking about it. The time it takes.

You'e holding up progressin our shop.

You'rethe point in grid beofre us. And my designers should be seething with ideas about then,
but a stgassis sets in and even
a malaise.

Nobody can tell how itworks this way.

Well you know about the grid,
the idea grid, don't you?

I've read. Sound like familiar bs to me.

We'd like you to have a scheudule andstick to it.

And what would my incentive be.
I think the cars are pretty, but...

Cash.
